Bespoke report – inaugural special offer

Get all the insights on investment market views of your company.

The inaugural Intellidex Top Investment Relations Awards is based on a survey of 69 buy-side and sell-side analysts. These respondents mentioned 136 different companies, ranked them among top five or bottom five in their coverage universe and gave us ratings on 11 different aspects of investor relations for each of those companies.

This provides one of the richest sources of feedback from investors regarding the IR performance of listed companies. The views come from hard-to-reach investors with considerable market influence which were gathered by our research teams over months.

We are offering companies a customised report with insight into this feedback.

Reports are only available to companies that attracted at least five respondents' input. We can, however, provide a generic report that has general market input and limited specific market feedback for those with fewer respondents.

Market feedback was provided confidentially, but we can provide good actionable insights on which corporate IR activities are landing appropriately, as well as the overall performance of the company.

The report includes:

- Key features of the respondents, including AUM, foreign/domestic sell-side, etc.
- Top five and bottom five rankings of your company.
- Each respondent's list of ranked companies with your position – this reveals peer groups from the perspective of IR quality.
- Ratings of your company by respondents (out of 5) across 11 key IR factors:
 - Accessibility of senior management
 - Insight into operations and key earnings drivers presented in annual financial statements
 - Clarity of guidance on future performance
 - Overall quality of investor relations
 - Sufficiency of information to interpret the AFS
 - Detail of notes to the annual financial statements
 - Overall clarity of investment commentary
 - Ability to communicate effectively through the Covid-19 crisis
 - Usability of results booklets and presentations
 - Quality and appropriateness of information in the integrated annual report
 - Timeliness of trading updates and earnings releases
- In each case your company will be compared against market averages.
 - Detail on top performing companies in the market on each of the 11 factors assessed.
 - Rankings and net scores of all companies in your sector with your relative rank.
 - Any freeform comments made by respondents on your company and/or relevant issues.
- The report will also contain the full questionnaire as an appendix.

We are able to provide customised reports on the following companies - those which have at least five respondent ratings across the 11 factors:
